We do projects. Keep it simple. Convert SharePoint to be a document storage facility and have our experts configure, convert and migrate your data.

Subscription Fatigue Hurts Companies & Law Firms

Today's companies & firms are overwhelmed by the complexity of managing numerous subscription services, often resulting in operational inefficiencies and diminished investment returns.

What is Subscription Fatigue? It is the experience of paying for too many software subscriptions and feeling powerless to do anything about it.

Do any of these experiences ring true to you?

Limited Visibility of Impact

Without a comprehensive tracking mechanism, it becomes difficult for decision makers to determine which departments or individuals are directly impacted by each subscription. This lack of clarity hinders targeted optimization initiatives.

Uncertain Benefits

It is challenging to consistently evaluate the benefits each subscription brings to the organization. Without clear metrics or regular reviews, companies may continue to invest in services whose value is ambiguous or marginal.

Underutilized Potential Even when subscriptions provide value, myriad operational and organizational factors can prevent companies from fully maximizing these benefits. This underutilization results in a lower overall return on investment.

What does it feel like? You feel anxiety because you are unsure that any solution is essential to the firm or business.

Have you had these feelings?

Uncertainty Around Cancellation

Companies face significant hesitation when it comes to canceling a subscription. The inability to accurately gauge the short-term and long-term effects of cancellation further contributes to operational inertia.

Ownership Merry-Go-Round and Fees

Private Equity purchased your favorite software solution and by your user's measure, the support and features have diminished while the fees have skyrocketed.

Choice Reduction, Market Consolidation

Years ago, you had options, where you could drop the solution, you have for another, having a cornucopia of choices, where the features were diverse and varied. Now you have a binary choice with limited feature differences.

Moonlight 365 Technologies, Inc. was founded to restore trust in technology consulting. We stand apart by delivering genuine solutions tailored to your needs—without hidden agendas or profit-driven recommendations.

For too long, consultancy has been synonymous with pushing billable hours or covertly favoring vendors that maximize margins. At Moonlight 365 Technologies, we're transforming that narrative.

By focusing exclusively on Microsoft 365—the platform that many businesses, law firms, and corporate legal departments already rely on—we provide targeted, customer-centric solutions that are built with Microsoft Technologies.

Solutions & Services

Content Management

Our SharePoint-based content management system leverages unique document IDs, rich metadata, and a configurable folder hierarchy—tailored to your clients, projects, departments, matters, or any specific organizational structure. Plus, you benefit from powerful search and browsing through Microsoft Power Apps, ensuring swift and efficient access to your vital information.

Document Storage

Our SharePoint-based document storage system is designed for simplicity and organization. It offers a clear, structured setup that makes managing your files a breeze. Plus, you can quickly access and search your documents using Windows Explorer or Microsoft Power Apps.

Data Migration

Effortlessly transfer files, emails, and critical data into meticulously organized repositories—whether a dedicated SharePoint storage facility or a fully configured SharePoint Content/Document Management system. This streamlined approach centralizes your information with precision, ensuring it's secure, accessible, and primed for immediate impact.

Microsoft 365 Solution Development

From custom Word templates to dynamic BI dashboards powered by Power Automate and Power Apps, we create versatile solutions that meet nearly every business need. Discover how we can unlock your organization's full potential.

Microsoft 365 and SharePoint Support

We offer comprehensive support for your legal or business Microsoft 365 environment—whether it's a fully customized solution or a basic setup. In addition, our extensive suite of services includes website development and tailored training, ensuring you fully harness the power and potential of your Microsoft 365 solutions.

Moonlight 365 Illuminates Your Path Through the Technology Darkness

The Management Team at Moonlight 365 Technologies brings over 30 years of combined expertise in Microsoft software and solutions—both cloud and on-premises. We have empowered some of North America's largest companies and most prestigious law firms with honest, actionable technology assessments. Our success rests on unwavering integrity, fair pricing, and solution-driven consulting that always puts our clients' best interests first—even when it means passing on a deal.

Over the last decade, the software landscape has transformed dramatically. In 2015, businesses bought software licenses outright—with the option to pay for separate support, upgrades, and updates. Vendors treated it like a car model, rolling out a “new version” every year with extra features and a refreshed look. Today, nearly every software solution is a perpetual lease with no buyout option. While subscriptions promise continual updates and full support, many—now owned by private equity—come with higher fees and less innovation.

Moonlight 365 Technologies is dedicated to crafting innovative solutions on Microsoft 365—the premier platform for businesses and law firms. We deliver scalable, custom solutions that address broad industry challenges while meeting your business or firm's unique requirements. Leveraging powerful Microsoft tools such as Power Apps, Power Automate, and more, we ensure that once your solution is deployed, your existing Microsoft 365 subscription covers nearly every business or legal function—no extra fees required.

AI is dominating the headlines, and missing its opportunities can leave your business or law firm at a disadvantage. We offer expert AI implementation to ensure you harness its true potential. The secret to a powerful AI experience in business and legal functions lies in sourcing from structured data within your Microsoft Tenant. Relying on unstructured data not only drives up server costs but also produces less accurate, impactful results.
